His name can also be added to a database of people convicted of animal cruelty. These will relate to what they saw in relation to the animal's environment and its body condition. Call the 24-hour cruelty hotline at 0300 1234 999 to report cruelty or an endangered animal. Vertebrates include mammals, birds, fish, reptiles and amphibians. Certain insects are protected by law to protect wildlife. It's a crime not to meet the needs of an animal or not to protect an animal from unnecessary suffering If someone is prosecuted and found guilty of gross negligence or cruelty of an animal or animal fight, they may be imprisoned for up to five years, fined or both. They will also need the names and addresses of the persons involved, as well as any other witnesses and any relevant vehicle registration numbers. Spiders and insects, including tarants and wood insects, are not protected. In Northern Ireland, contact your local USPCA. The RSPCA Care for Neglected Animals (AFP) Dog is for Life (Getty Images Europe) It is important to take notes as you will be asked to give a detailed description of what you have seen or heard. The RSPCA controller will ask you a series of questions about the animal (s) involved to establish the complete situation. A court can issue a series of orders to restrict the person's contact with the animals, such as: a restraining order - to take the animal away and prevent the person from possessing it. The order may also require the animal to be sold or destroyed a disqualification order - to prevent the person from owning or working with animals. If the person does not follow a call notice properly, they are likely to be charged with an offence and prosecuted. You will need your own name, address and phone number which will be kept confidential and will not be shared with anyone else. rotsapni rotepsni mu, saicneÅtsnucric sa etnaesnoC iel rop ol-Åzaf a adazirouta ajetsse edadicos a euq persuade or educate the person responsible for the pet to take care of the pet properly give him a warning of care stating what the person is not doing and giving him a period of time to take steps to improve the welfare of the animal initiate criminal proceedings by reporting the case to the Attorney General. Check the codes of welfare practices on the Scottish Government website for cats, dogs and horses and the welfare guidelines for rabbits for information on how to meet the welfare needs of these animals. It is also illegal, and can be a criminal offence, for: to moor the tail of a dog - except for hunting dogs or puppies of hunting points - if they are under five days old in an animal fight - for example, between dogs or roosters offer live animals as prizes - except if a family member tells a relative a live pet operate an animal without proper care and mankind use an animal in an experiment that causes pain abandoning an animal. The case will be investigated and the welfare and living conditions of the animal will be assessed. Police and inspectors can remove an animal and take it to a safe place. In most cases, an inspector obtains the owner's consent before doing so. During busy periods, your call can be queued. But who do you call or contact? There are two ways to contact the RSPCA. If you suspect that a neighbor is mistreating or neglecting an animal here is who to call and what would make the worst nightmare of all animal lovers. If someone is disqualified from owning an animal in England and Wales, he will also be disqualified in Scotland. Or you can use their secure online services to report an endangered animal. The police have the power to ask a veterinarian to shoot down any animal they find so sick or injured that moving it would be cruel, whether the animal of the animal agree or disagree with it.
